Annual Update on Aging Virtual Event January 25, 2023:

DARS partnered with the Virginia Center on Aging to host the Annual Update on Aging virtual event. During the event, which was attended by over 350 professionals, older adults, and caregivers, VCOA and DARS highlighted the important and exciting work they are doing to advance the health, well-being and equity for the elders of today and tomorrow. Specifically, Commissioner Hayfield highlighted recent DARS/VCOA collaborations, new aging services funding that the General Assembly appropriated in the 2022 Appropriation Act, new Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Program federal grant funding to expand the program, and the upcoming Southern Gerontological Society Conference in Norfolk (April 11-15, 2023), the Governor's Conference on Aging in Richmond (May 8-9, 2023), and the Dementia Capable Summit also in Richmond (May 10, 2023). DARS staff Sara Link, No Wrong Door Director, shared how No Wrong Door is making it easier than ever for Virginians to get connected to the services they want and need, and Senior Policy Analyst Charlotte Arbogast highlighted the findings of the agency's recently completed comprehensive needs assessment that surveyed older adults across the Commonwealth and included a partnership with VCOA to solicit input from older adults, caregivers and professionals via listening sessions. The needs assessment findings will be integrated in the next State Plan for Aging Services which is under development now. Numerous community members have reached out to the DARS staff to share how much they enjoyed the event and the presentations

No Wrong Door

No Wrong Door convened the first in-meeting of community partners who will be completing an Accelerator Plan for the CDC's Social Determinants of Health grant project. Anchored by two of our Area Agencies on Aging (Prince William and Rappahannock-Rapidan Community Services), the core group of approximately 11 organizations will co-create a shared plan to address food insecurity and social connectedness in their local communities. Driven by data and existing Community Needs Assessments, the overarching goal is to reduce health disparities and inequities, and to improve health outcomes for both physical and mental health chronic conditions. No Wrong Door is excited to elevate community voices as we also disseminate new tools like a refreshed Easy Access website, artificial-intelligence (AI) Social Health Connector survey, and an enhanced DETERMINE Nutrition Screening with our partners in Aging Services. The project runs through August 31, 2023.

No Wrong Door Virginia presented to 526 CCC Plus Care Coordinators during a virtual session hosted by DMAS on March 2nd, demonstrating the use of tools on Virginia Easy Access. They highlighted new and user-favorite features with objectives to:

- Learn about No Wrong Door, person-centric design, and partnerships across state agencies and organizations to streamline information into a “one-stop shop” website on the social determinants of health for older adults.
- Learn about innovative assistive technology that helps older adults and individuals with disabilities live safe, comfortable, and autonomous lives.
- Demo Access to the Assistive Technology Toolkits for falls prevention, emergency preparedness and social health.

They asked the Care Coordinators to name the services that they frequently get asked about while supporting individuals, and housing was mentioned the most. During the presentation QR codes were provided to pages on Easy Access featuring VATS services as well as a summary page explaining how to connect to resources. Reviewing the web analytics afterwards we saw a 18% spike in the visitor numbers the afternoon of the presentation.

Nutrition

On February 9th, DARS’ Office for Aging Services continued its Senior Farmers’ Market Nutrition Program (SFMNP) Expansion planning discussions with its community partners to create the monitoring structure for the upcoming season. These community partners include: Virginia State University (VSU), Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (VDACS), Virginia Farmers’ Market Association (VAFMA) and Virginia Fresh Match (VFM). The grant deliverables were reviewed; including the federal requirement to monitor 10% of the authorized farmers. In the past, VDACS provided this service; however, that agency does not have the capacity to provide this in the expansion

regions. VSU discussed creating a needs analysis and a framework for this expansion. VSU will discuss the options with its representatives from the small farm outreach program's network of regional leads that may be able to assist with the grant deliverables. Monthly trainings will be established for approved farmers to participate in, to assist with the anticipated influx of new farmers. This will offer an opportunity to familiarize farmers with the program and trouble shoot any issues that arise. VFM recommended the inclusion of the hunger action coalition and the local food hubs as outlets to promote the expansion opportunity. Press releases will be created and distributed through DARS' and VDACS' Communications Departments. On March 9, the Nutrition &amp; Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Program (S/FMNP) Coordinator met with representatives from Virginia Farmers' Market Association and Virginia State University (VSU) to discuss the role of VSU in the Farmer Approval process for S/FMNP. VSU also offered to assist with spreading the news about the SFMNP expansion to the farmer participants in their Small Farm Outreach program, as well as in their newsletter. DARS staff provided marketing materials for VSU to share with their network. DARS also collaborated with representatives in Petersburg and Northern Virginia regarding food access and bringing the S/FMNP to their regions. This process is ongoing. New Staff DCL welcomes:  Roxanne Saunders, Assistant Director, Programs &amp; Services  Hollie Lutz, NWD Project Specialist
Legislative Update Ms. Harrison shared an update on activity in the recently concluded General Assembly. There were several bills related to guardianship: One bill that would require training for all guardians to be developed by DARS died in committee. Other bills passed, including a requirement for a periodic review of guardianships – a year after a guardianship is made and every three years after that. Another addressed the publication of identifying information in an effort to mitigate identity theft. Another bill sought to address recommendations on visitation from the JLARC report in 2021. Guardians will have the final say on who can visit the incapacitated person, but will need to provide notice to restricted person and incapacitated person, local DSS and court. Another bill laid out requirements for guardians to visit their clients at least three times per year, starting July 1. One visit must be in person, the second visit can be	Catherine Harrison, Director of Legislative &amp; Policy Affairs

in person or virtual, and the third can be in person, virtual, or by a representative of the guardian. Minimum staffing requirements for nursing homes were enacted that would require 3.08 hours per resident per day, less than the 4.12 recommended. Long-term care screening for Medicaid should occur before nursing home entry as facilities were not getting paid until that happened.
Alzheimer's Association Legislative Update Two major bills supported by the Alzheimer's Association. The first bill addressed the sunset of the Alzheimer's Commission and the addition of new agency representatives as non-voting members of the Commission, beginning July 1. The new agencies to be represented are DARS, DBHDS, VDH, DSS and DMAS. A further bill will require dementia training that covers all dementias, not just Alzheimer's disease. The Department of Criminal Justice Services training committee will work with the association on training of first responders. DCJS will likely use the curriculum it had developed in coordination with DARS through a contract with Niagara University in 2017 as a starting point.	Josh Myers, Alzheimer's Association

BOLD Grant Commission Involvement (Attachment)  Action Item: Letter of Support  Mr. Worthington provided an overview of the new BOLD funding opportunity, which requires states to address three strategies related to the Commission: expanding membership, developing an education plan for the Commission, and developing an implementation plan for the Dementia State Plan. The Commission discussed the proposed letter to Vanessa Walker Harris, MD, Director of the Office of Family Health Services. The letter provides information on the commission and commits the Commission to endeavouring to work on the three strategies. One change to the letter was proposed, to include 'cognitive and brain health' in the final sentence. A motion to accept the letter as amended was made by Margie Shaver. Seconded by Dr. Manning. A voice vote was unanimous in favor of the amended letter.	George Worthington
Nominating Committee  The bylaws require a three-member Nominating Committee to be appointed at the March meeting of odd-numbered years. The Committee	Laura Bowser

will develop a slate of officers to provide to the Commission for a vote at the June (Annual) meeting on June 13. The Committee will meet the morning of that meeting. Destiny LeVere, Kim Kutner and Karen Garner were appointed to the Committee. Laura Bowser has served two terms of chair and will rotate off the Commission at the end of June. Lana Sargent has similarly served two terms as vice-chair and would not be eligible to remain in that role.
Dementia State Plan Committee/Summit Committee Report Although the Dementia State Plan workgroup did not meet this quarter, the Summit planning committee has met monthly. Highlights from the committee this quarter: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The Committee has invited Bonnie Wattles, executive director of Hilarity for Charity, to provide a keynote speech at the Summit. Hilarity for Charity, founded by comedian Seth Rogen and his wife Lauren, is ‘a national non-profit on a mission to care for families impacted by Alzheimer’s disease, activate the next generation of Alzheimer’s advocates, and be a leader in brain health research and education.’ This mission statement shows a strong alignment with the goals of the Summit to widen and broaden stakeholder engagement and advocacy for the Dementia State Plan, and to discuss how best to include brain health and dementia risk reduction messaging into the State Plan.</li> <li>• Dr. Paul Aravich of Eastern Virginia Medical School, will be providing the educational segment on brain health and risk reduction during the plenary session of the Summit. Dr. Aravich will be familiar to most Commission members. He has worked tirelessly to raise the level of knowledge and understanding around the brain disorders that cause dementia.</li> <li>• The Committee met with Martina James-Nalley of the Governor’s Conference for the Aging in November. This meeting helped clarify the division of tasks and raised some issues for the Committee to consider. Most important to come out of this meeting was the decision to charge attendees a nominal $25 to attend the Summit. This will help reduce the likelihood that people will register and then not attend, as might happen if the Summit were entirely cost-free. It will also offset a portion of the cost of the Summit.</li> </ul>	Margie Shaver

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The Committee and the Conference will work on developing a Memorandum of Agreement for the Summit.</li> <li>• DARS received $12,500 through a Geriatric Training and Education grant from the Virginia Center on Aging to support the Summit. Additional funding will come from the Virginia Department of Health through the BOLD grant. There may be a shortfall that will need to be made up through sponsorship opportunities, and these were discussed with the Conference in November.</li> </ul>
Workgroup &amp; Committee Reports Mr. Worthington reported that with FOIA changes, it has been difficult for the workgroups to meet given the inability of members participating electronically in the absence of a physical quorum. Mr. Worthington will canvass members to see whether they would be willing to meet on the days of Commission meetings. The Legislative Committee will aim to meet in April.	Margie Shaver, DSP Committee Kim Kutner, Training Workgroup Ishan Williams, Coordinated Care Workgroup Lana Sargent, Data &amp; Research Workgroup
Working Lunch: Opening Minds Through Art: An evidence based program Opening Minds Through Art (OMA) is a research based, best practice intergenerational art program for people living with dementia. The OMA program was developed in 2007 by Dr. Elizabeth Lokon and the Scripps Gerontology Center Miami University-OH. The program has been replicated through training across the US, Canada, and now Indonesia as part of a Fulbright Scholarship awarded to the founder. Intergenerational engagement Powerful and meaningful social stimulation Person Centered approach Volunteer partners receive training how to understand dementia &amp; support the resident's artistic and communication abilities Strength-based rather than illness focused.	Cindy Paullin, Art for the Journey Stephanie Shanks, OMA Program Director

The principles of OMA:

Inspired by abstract art

Failure Free

Unique results – process driven

The ratio of volunteers to residents is one-to-one.

“The brilliant OMA art process uses a series of easy steps and multiple layers that result in a complex and beautiful final product and

The resident makes all the artistic decisions.

Once certified, OMA facilitators conduct in-depth volunteer training to educate and support volunteers who work one on one with the artists.

The data on the program overwhelmingly supports the positive impact that it has on people.

A special exhibit is held each year for the Virginia General Assembly.

Criteria for eligibility for the program:

(1) LTC community

(2) SNF

(3) Medicare/Medicaid certified

Who should be certified?

Activities professionals

Dementia care workers
